FOREWORD

Here is a book of memories,
So fresh and bright that they are hardly memories yet;
But time is working at them.
Even now as you turn the pages for the first time
And sniff the pleasant odor of fresh ink,
Even now the things you see there have changed,
And, being changed, are gone.
Take this book of memories,
Not a moment's monument, but a year's.
Take it and think of it as the free return of a year
Already spent.

"B. E." is one of the loveliest girls that Mary Baldwin owns—during her freshman year Betty-Ellen was Freshman Representative on the Y.W. Cabinet—a member of the Glee Club—in her sophomore year chairman of the World Fellowship on the Y.W.—a member of the Glee Club—her junior year found "B. E." as vice-president of her class, editor of the BLUESTOCKING—her senior year she was a member of the Student Council and House President of Hill Top—chairman of the Social Committee and business manager of the senior play—also in her senior year she was elected to "Who's Who among Students in American Colleges and Universities"—"B. E." is our beautiful May Queen for 1941.

of Mary Baldwin College

Dorris has the distinction of having been on the Student Council her four years at Mary Baldwin—as Freshman Representative—when a sophomore, she served as treasurer and House President of Main—when a junior she was secretary and House President of Chapel Hall—her senior year found her President of Student Government and consequently Chairman of the Presidents' Forum and ex-officio member of the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet—as a freshman she was on the class basketball team—she was her sophomore year basketball sports leader of the Athletic Council and also received the best sportsmanship award this year—her junior year she was on the class basketball team and the varsity—a member of the Granddaughters and Little Sisters Club for four years, serving as chairman her sophomore year—that year also found her on the Friendship and Social Service committees of the Y.W.C.A.—as a senior she was in the cast of Tony Draves A Horse and was elected to Who's Who among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

RECOLLECTIONS OF A SENIOR

FRESHMAN memories? A blur composed of emotional heights and depths unknown before or since. Brewster's first essay, one on "Steps," was an adequate summary of our first impressions. The rest was cadets and chaperones, blind dates and blue books, senior sophistication and sophomore superiority. Pauline Strickland's "Miss Livingston," the sacrosanct front room at the Club, a frog's nervous system in concrete form, and Anna Gale's poise in managing our first obligations highlighted the year that Dorris departed at 3:15 one morning to glimpse her new niece.

Then came our own sophomore superiority, sullied by no touch of dignity. Our elaborately-planned "Rat Day," when we ended up more fatigued than the freshmen—irrepressible upper Memorial with Ann Cole's prevarications and Farmer's fire alarm—the Sophomore-Senior Banquet, when Sledge had us blowing up thousands of balloons and Olive Oyl's "party for the funny-paper people" was so successful we considered taking it on tour—Spenser's Faerie Queen and the New Testament, are only a few of the markers of that memorable session.

Junior year was missing people and being preoccupied with a major, getting out the BLUESTOCKING and bidding adieu to Bible. It was junior rings—more cuts—twelve o'clock riding permissions—"Ensie's" big year with $20,000 in two weeks—our Faculty Album at the Athletic Picnic. It was Phyllis in Cradle Song and Stage Door—the incomparable Mag's last year at the Club piano—the first banquet in our honor—chaperoning to the show. Finally it was our Viennese banquet for the seniors—installation—being attendants for the last time—saying good-bye to Miss Poole—the realization that the year ahead was to be our year.

It has been full, our year, of October Fourth in the sunlight, of Santa's toyshop party and caroling, of comprehensives and our dinner dance, of Betty-Ellet as May Queen and Farmer as our president and queen of Fancy Dress, of Dorris as only Dorris can be, and of Miss Arnold's clever tea for us in the Art Studio. But while we're discussing senior dresses and "high tea" gloves we suddenly realize that the things we won't forget, the things that are Mary Baldwin to us, are the "little, nameless, unremembered" ones—studying in the Library when the sun is on the mountains—the way Main looks at night—that feeling of supreme content when a term paper is typed and in—a walk to the reservoir in a cold winter twilight—basketball practice on a full moon night—the way Dr. Turner's philosophy made us think—the meaning of caps and gowns—the knowledge of friends and a kind of sure calmness which not even our uncertainties about the future can shake. They are the heritage of Mary Baldwin after ninety-nine years—built on all that is around us and leaving memories and hopes in our hearts.

THE IMPRESSIONS OF A JUNIOR

THE long awaited time is here at last and we are upper-classmen, and with this newly acquired dignity come all the privileges which seemed so remote two years ago and for which we have worked so hard. Now we can chaperone, have dates any night, go riding with them and take twelve o'clock permissions. But we must not forget the extra class-cuts and week-ends which make for longer and better times. We at last say goodbye to required subjects, and sign for our gym on blue slips. With all this newness we can not help but think back on the part that it played in our college life during this past year.

Among our remembered happenings of this year are first—the Athletic Picnic with our skit and the puppet Dionne quintuplets. Then the open house and the kind welcome of Dr. and Mrs. Shedd to "their girls." Louise Vandiviere and Ann Pendleton took part in Brief Music and how proud of them we were. The most memorable event perhaps was the arrival of our junior rings for then we really felt like upperclassmen. On top of this came the Christmas party given by the seniors. We were very happy but behind it all was the feeling that the next one would be ours. The party at the Club that night was memorable, and afterward the few chosen ones who went caroling will never forget it. Exams came after a perfect vacation for those of us who didn't have flu or measles. We realized that there aren't many more to take, and this was a happy thought. Then followed the Valentine banquet given us by the freshmen which was lovely and it was fun being the guests of honor. Spring vacation in April and everybody returned with a new hat and talk of a gala time. Our banquet for the Seniors in May and the 1941 BLUESTOCKING. But here too we were sad again for it is so near the end and we shall soon take the seniors' places. Our chapel program, the last of the year, and exams again. The pageant, then commencement and we were at last seniors, and our joy is mingled with good-bys that are perhaps forever.

We cannot help thinking back over it all again and with all this remember how our feelings have changed. No longer do we feel the insignificance that we felt our freshman year, or the superiority of our sophomore year, but we are a part of a scheme of things and hope that we are at last beginning to understand.

FROM A SOPHOMORE'S DIARY

SEPT. 13, 1940—Started school on the thirteenth again this year, Friday at that! But it is a sign of good luck, not bad. Sept 21—The Athletic picnic at Crafton's, better this year than ever.

Our class has decided to start a tradition. We have done away with "Rat Day" and have put something else in its place. That something is a beautiful surprise for the rest of the school—students, and faculty too! It happens next Wednesday. Sept. 25—Our surprise had to be postponed until tomorrow because of rain.

Sept. 26—Today was the great event. No classes! Instead the whole college went in busses to Lake Sherando, a government reservation, for an all-day picnic. What fun! Because Sherando is high in the mountains, it was very cold there until afternoon. We kept warm by playing games: baseball, dodgeball, and archery. Then came the call for lunch and everyone flocked to a pavilion away from the lake. There we lined up, sophomores last, to be served. Then back to games again—we played or hiked for several hours. At four we had to leave for college. It was such a success that I'm sure next year the picnic will be repeated.

Oct.—Studying for quarterlies—first grades of the year. Nov.—Only one Thanksgiving this year, but that only meant we could be twice as thankful on one day.

Dec.—Term papers—Christmas spirit, Christmas carols in chapel—Christmas party—Vacation. Jan. 8—Back to school. Jan. 23—Exams. Feb.—Valentines.

March 19—Sophomore-Senior banquet. April 9—Spring vacation is late this year, but the weather is nicer.

May—Studying for exams again. May Day practice every day too. June—Commencement—Good-bye again.

THE OUTLOOK OF A FRESHMAN

WE always thought that the grass looked greener on the other side of the fence. We jumped that fence and landed at Mary Baldwin looking slightly bewildered, over anxiously curious and definitely pleased. The first week of school was a delightfully confusing interlude of hiding one's belongings away, learning five-minute biography of the roommate, planning an academic future and making friends. Sunday evening of the following week the Y.W.C.A. held the candlelight service, simple and lovely, which inspired us all with sincere straight-forwardness.

Everything seemed to calm down a bit until upper classmen began hinting about "Rat Day." All of us had expected some drawback to college and tried to ignore the idea. However, we were very pleasantly surprised by an all-day picnic given in our honor by the sophomore class.

On October fourth, Founders' Day, the whole school witnessed the celebration, which included the planting of the ivy and Senior Investiture. November found us feeling again rather lost, for quarterlies were upon us. We came through without too many scratches, and then took off for the Thanksgiving holiday. After coming back, our minds persistently wandered to the date of December sixteenth. We had train bells and whistles on our minds. The day to go home for Christmas vacation finally came and we stampeded the station, feeling definitely like college girls. We awoke from our dreams of parties, turkey, and carols to hit the books in a pre-exam frenzy. This ended our first wonderful semester at Mary Baldwin.

Valentine Day brought the Junior-Freshman banquet. The week after we gave a barn dance—cookies, cokes, and all—in honor of the sophomores. Time flew—and on April ninth so did all of us to points East and West for a grand spring vacation. We all came piling back with very determined young faces. One month more of school and then more exams and the day to say "good-bye" to the senior class. The May Day festival—tears and flowers—was the end of our freshman year. June second was bright and beautiful, and leaving school was a chaotic combination of "good-bye" and "see you next year."

Relaxation for sophomore hostesses—Privilege of an English major—Paula in repose—Florida sun smiles—Back home again—Playing while working—The ever smiling Shedd—The “rah-rah” girls—Us on a bus—“Squirrelly” Shirley—Food for thought—Frosh—A campus favorite.

ACTIVITIES

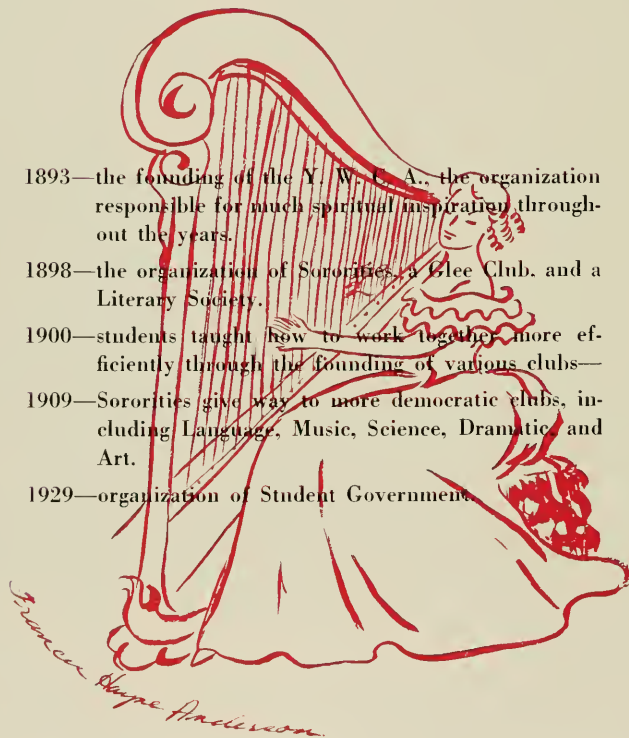

1893—the founding of the Y. W. C. A., the organization responsible for much spiritual inspiration throughout the years.

1898—the organization of Sororities, a Glee Club, and a Literary Society.

1900—students taught how to work together more efficiently through the founding of various clubs—

1909—Sororities give way to more democratic clubs, including Language, Music, Science, Dramatic, and Art.

1929—organization of Student Government.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

DORRIS WITHERS

President of

Student Government Association

The purpose of our Student Government Association is to unite each individual honor code with that of the entire Student Body, to form a code understood and followed by all alike. It is an accepted fact that whenever a number of people live together there must exist some form of regulation or government. It is with the purpose of furthering the interest of the college and for the convenience of the greater number of students that the regulations have been set down in our Handbook. Each student becomes a member of the Association when she enters Mary Baldwin. She pledges herself not only to uphold academic honesty, but also honesty with regard to all social regulations.

Through student government we hope to further every girl's education in learning to become a good citizen by giving her the opportunity to live as an honorable and unselfish individual in a community, and of assuming the responsibility developing upon a self-governing group. To learn to live wisely, worthily, and well, to share life's burdens and responsibilities, to be honorable in all things, should be the purpose of every Mary Baldwin girl.

The student body has elected a group to watch over its Student Government System and also to represent them to the Officials of the College and to its Faculty. This group is called the Student Council.

*President of the

The Y.W.C.A. of Mary Baldwin College desires and hopes to bring the entire student body together in doing Christian service. The "Little Sister-Big Sister" activities at the opening of school give the new students someone to help and advise them. Also at the beginning of the school year the Candlelight vesper program, which is the recognition service, is very impressive, with the girls in white carrying lighted candles and singing "Follow the Gleam."

On Saturday nights in the gym. we have had fun relaxing and getting together before the start of another week. Our work at the V.S.D.B. with the blind girls has given us an excellent experience in social work, as well as great satisfaction from helping others.

"Peanut Week" is always exciting when each girl receives a peanut shell which contains the name of another girl to whom she gives presents secretly for three days before the party at which identities are revealed and every one is properly thanked for the gifts.

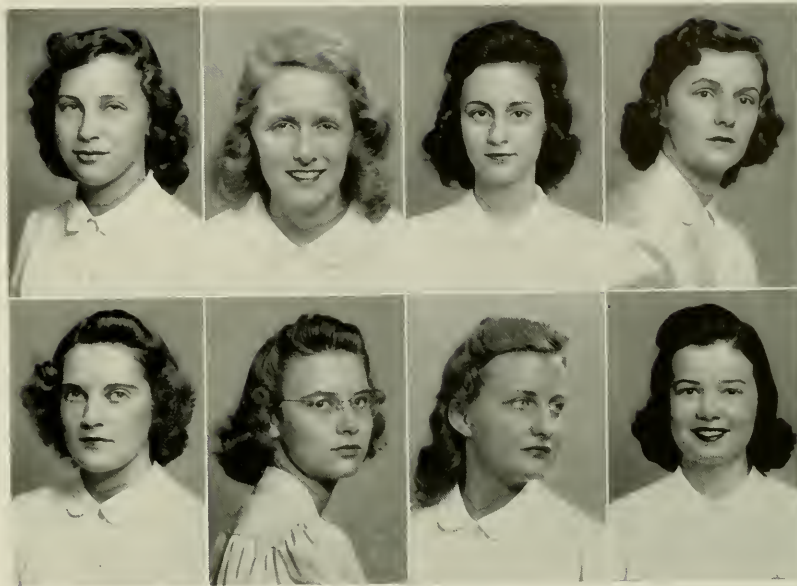

Never shall we forget the trip around the world with the World Fellowship Committee which keeps us up to the minute in foreign affairs. The ladies of the Betty Bickle Home have enjoyed our visits to them—and so have we. The Installation of the new officers in the chapel during a Sunday church service in May is one of the last Y.W. meetings of the year, and is a most impressive one.

The Presidents' Forum is composed of the presidents and heads of student organizations, including the class presidents, the publications editors, the presidents of all clubs which meet certain requirements set by the Forum, and the student treasurer. It acts as a clearing house for the mutual problems of the organizations, and it determines major policies of extra-curricular activities.

The congeniality to be found where music lovers meet—Strauss waltzes and Beethoven at the Thursday record hours—Informal recitals in the Faculty Parlor after dinner by Miss Gaines, Miss Gunlaugson, and Mr. Broman, where we learned to love especially Miss Gunlaugson's "Ave Maria," Miss Gaines' Chopin, and Mr. Broman's delightful Rondo by Hummel—The concert by Emma Ricci, able twelve year old violinist, that we sponsored and which was a success, in spite of it being on Thanksgiving week-end.—Meetings when we were entertained by individual members or we all sang together.—Highlight of the club year, our meeting at Mr. Broman's home when we listened to Brahms or Schubert and enjoyed Mrs. Broman's delicious cookies and hot chocolate.—All in all a very enjoyable social club and one with a worthy aim: to bring to our students a love for good music.

Our Christmas music consisted of a chapel program for the students and faculty, a joint concert with Hampden-Sydney College Glee Club in Chapel and a Christmas program at the First Presbyterian Church.

In town we gave a program for the Chamber of Commerce Convention held at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel.

The two spring programs were a joint concert with the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club in Richmond and another joint concert with the Harvard Symphony in the college chapel.

The Glee Club traditionally sings at the Baccalaureate service of the college in the First Presbyterian Church.

The International Relations Club has been represented by several groups at two conventions: the State convention in Charlottesville during November, and the Southeastern division of International Relations Clubs at Tallahassee, Florida, in February. Also in November, the Club sponsored a project for the Woodrow Wilson Birthplace Restoration Foundation, which included a Chapel program, a picture show and a lecture. Other activities have included lectures on contemporary events and open forum discussions.

The Hallowe'en party, toasting marshmallows while telling French ghost stories—the lecture on the war in France by Lieutenant Cheek of S.M.A.—our Christmas party 'neath the colorful tree, munching tasty morsels, telling more stories (of course, en Français)—a Parisian Fashion Show for the January party—the poetry reading hour—Dr. Moffatt of the University of Virginia, his lecture and movies—indeed a flourishing year for the French Club.

German Club meetings are purely social gatherings at which the members participate in German games, songs, riddles, and spelling contests. The most important event of the year was the Christmas party at Miss Fannie's, the stories of Christmas celebrations in old Germany, the Christmas carols, and the wonderful Brownies and Pfeiffernussen made the party a success. Some of the other outstanding events were an evening of music at which records of German masters were played, the spring picnic, the Birthday Dinner in April, and the Chapel program in May.

This year the Science Club has divided itself into two groups: The Applied Science group composed of the Biology, Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics and Astronomy departments, and the Social Science group comprised of the Sociology and Psychology departments.

Among our programs and activities during this year we have had pictures on television from the Physics department, exciting experiments from the Psychology department, reports on research work done by the faculty members, and interesting lectures by students doing their major work in the various fields of science.

The Day Student Club began its 1940-41 activities with an opening meeting on September 25. On October 10 the Day Students had a picnic in Gypsy Hill Park, and on October 30 they gave a party for the Faculty. On November 28 the club had a supper meeting at the First Presbyterian Sunday School. Instead of a February meeting, the Day Students have charge of a Chapel program. A tea at Miss Fannie's is planned for March, and elections will be held in April. The Day Students will give a tea for the local High School Seniors in May.

THE ALGERNON SYDNEY SULLIVAN AWARD

The New York Southern Society, in order to perpetuate the memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan (through whose efforts the Society was founded), in such a form that shall be most expressive of his character, established an award to be made in certain Southern colleges, to one member of the graduating class of each institution selected. Each school may present this award to another person, not a member of the student body, in whom accomplishment and service are outstanding, and who shall have some interest in, association with, or relation to said institution. At the 1940 Commencement, Mary Baldwin College presented the awards to: Hilda Brown '40, Tarrytown, New York, and Mrs. Nettie DuBose Junkin of China, an alumna of Mary Baldwin.

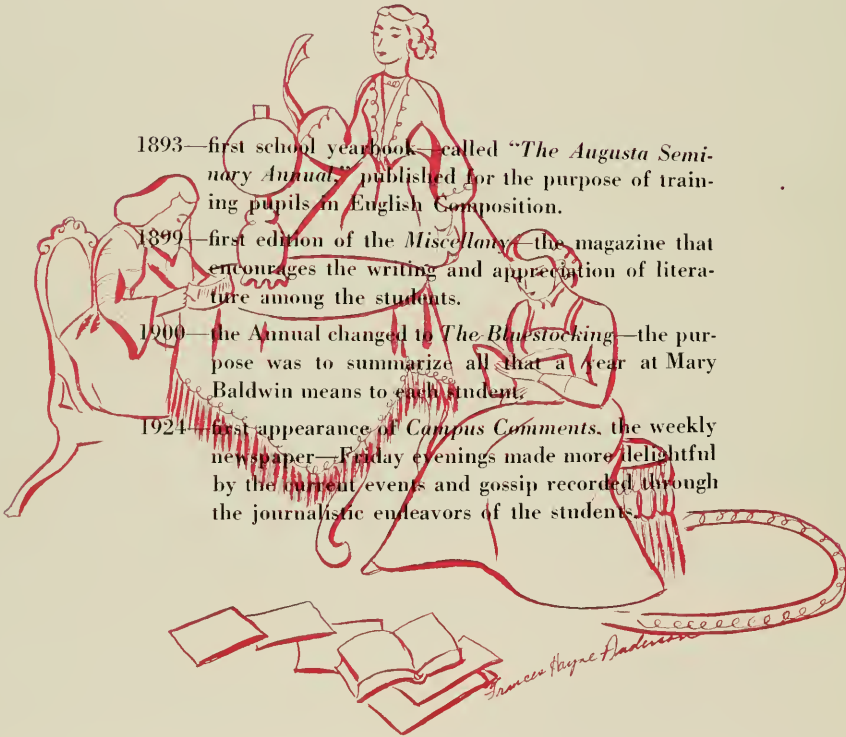

THE QUARLES AWARD

The Lois Walker Quarles medal, established in 1931 in memory of a Mary Baldwin alumna, is awarded to that student who meets the following qualifications: She must be a member of the Junior or Senior class; must have completed a minimum of the full year course each year for a consecutive period of three years in instrumental music or voice, and have made at least two class athletic teams. At the 1940 Commencement the College presented this award to Shirley Fleming, '40, Moberly, Missouri.

1893—first school yearbook—called "The Augusta Seminary Annual," published for the purpose of training pupils in English Composition.

1899—first edition of the Miscellany—the magazine that encourages the writing and appreciation of literature among the students.

1900—the Annual changed to The Bluestocking—the purpose was to summarize all that a year at Mary Baldwin means to each student.

1924—first appearance of Campus Comments, the weekly newspaper—Friday evenings made more delightful by the current events and gossip recorded through the journalistic endeavors of the students.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Campus Comments, Mary Baldwin Student weekly newspaper, has made progressive steps in the field of journalism this year. It was judged as the second best college newspaper in the state at the Virginia Inter-collegiate Press Association contest held at Blacksburg in November. This meeting was attended by Betty Stark and Jane Abbott of the editorial and business staffs.

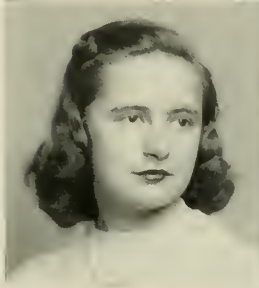

Three delegates attended the Associated Collegiate Press conference in Detroit also in November. They were Marion Elsdon, Catherine Dewees, and Emily Jerger.

The progressiveness of the paper is due to several things. The staff has been greatly increased, thus enabling the paper to better represent the college group. Many pictures of campus activities have tended to lend interest, enthusiasm, and life. Also, the scope of materials has been broadened to include national and international news in news stories, editorials, and features. Two outstanding new features have been introduced. Campus Comments has more than ever before been edited by the journalism students. Also, gold keys bearing the name of the publication and the seal of the school were ordered for staff members.

THE BLUESTOCKING

THE BLUESTOCKING, the college annual, is a summary of the highlights of the year. The Editor and Business Manager are chosen by the Student Body, and the staff members are chosen by these two with the aid of the Faculty Adviser. The Staff is composed of members of the junior class with the exception of a representative from the sophomore and freshman classes.

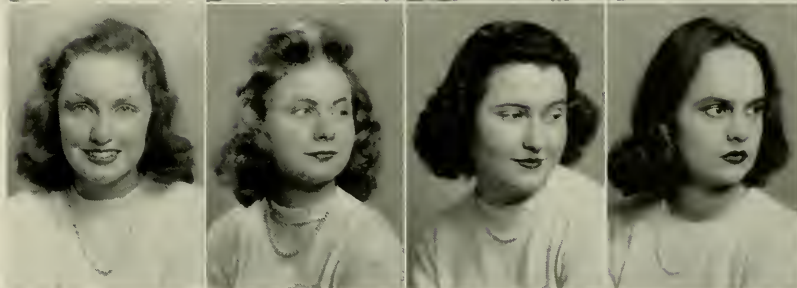

In spite of the fact that we have tried to recapture the memories of former days, we have endeavored to present to you, the class of '41, the activities and associations which will become in later years your indelible memories of Mary Baldwin.

THE MISCELLANY

The Miscellany, the college literary magazine, is published four times each year. It is here that we find the best creative writing of the students. This year The Miscellany sponsored a short story contest, awarding prizes to the writers of the two best stories. We also, together with Hollins, Sweet Briar, and Randolph-Macon, submitted material to the Southern Collegian, the Washington and Lee literary magazine, which was used in a special issue of that magazine.

The Miscellany is one of the oldest student publications and we are proud of its tradition. Composed almost entirely of student contributions, The Miscellany reflects student life and ideals here at Mary Baldwin in a way that no other publication can. We are proud to have had a part in the publishing of another year's Miscellany.

ATHLETICS

1842—exercise in the form of a required walk every afternoon.

1874—a snitable room built for the calisthenics—a Bowling Alley constructed—"exercise an important auxiliary in female education."

1917—intramural sports—emphasis placed upon athletics and the cooperation and sportsmanship necessary in making college sports successful.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

NANCY CLARK

President of Athletic Association

The Athletic Association here at Mary Baldwin endeavors to complete the well-rounded college program and curriculum of each girl. It strives to interest every student in some kind of sport and recreation and to create among them good sportsmanship and fair play.

Each of the different sports has a leader. These leaders make up an Athletic Council and together with the assistance of the director of the physical education department carry out the athletic program for the year.

The program for this year was begun with the annual picnic held at Craiton's Park with novel skits by students and faculty, baseball games and a picnic supper. During exams the students are always encouraged to get plenty of exercise and recreation and a special sports program is put on.

The highlight of the program in the spring is the horseshow, which is always a fine display of excellent riding.

Not only does the athletic program include sports, but social activities as well. Several times it has sponsored square dances and folk dances, and together with the physical education department sponsors the May Day Pageant.

The Athletic program is not for the well-trained athlete alone, but for all who enjoy wholesome recreation and lots of fun.

HOCKEY

Hockey, our major fall sport, is looked forward to each year with great enthusiasm by all classes. We don our tunics and shinguards, choose our favorite hockey sticks and are ready to compete for the championship.

This year the freshmen were the champions and the Hockey Cup is presented to them at the Athletic Banquet which takes place in May.

We were very fortunate this fall in having Miss Appleby of England to instruct us in the art of Hockey.

From different class teams the varsity team is chosen, the members of which are representatives to the Hockey Convention at Sweet Briar.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is started with great enthusiasm right after Christmas and is our major sport during the winter months.

We meet at the Y.M.C.A. faithfully twice a week to practice and get our teams into shape in order to enter into the inter-class competition for the championship. This year the Freshmen were victorious.

The climax of the Basketball Season comes when the Seniors challenge the Faculty to a match. The Faculty are grand sports and turn out in great numbers. The game is always a hilarious one and the Faculty usually end up by defeating the mighty Seniors.

BASEBALL

Baseball is our major sport for the spring. It is enjoyed by all, but the freshmen and sophomores seem to show more enthusiasm for it than do the other classes.

The different classes practice diligently for about the first two weeks of the season and then there are some very exciting inter-class games.

At the end of the season the victorious class is awarded the Baseball Cup.

Although the spring is our Baseball season, we do have a big game in the fall at the Athletic Picnic between the Faculty and Students. This proves very exciting.

HORSE SHOW

The annual Horse Show, which takes place in the Spring, is the grand finale to the activities of the Riding Club.

This show is an exhibition of the ability of the different members of the club. The riders are divided into beginners, intermediates, and advanced classes and are judged as to form, ability to handle the horse, jumping ability, and pair riding.

First, second, and third places are awarded in each class and two cups are given at the end. The best rider of the show receives a cup, and one is also given to the best intermediate rider.

A collage of 12 black and white photographs arranged in a grid-like fashion, showcasing various school activities. The photos include: a student in a light-colored dress standing against a stone wall; two students in a room with a piano; a student in a costume standing in front of a stone archway; a student in a light dress standing by a window; a student in a dark dress performing on a stage; a student in a dark dress performing on a stage; a student in a light dress performing on a stage; a student in a light dress performing on a stage; a student in a light dress performing on a stage; a student in a light dress performing on a stage; a student in a light dress performing on a stage; and a student in a light dress performing on a stage.

The time for reminiscing has come—gather around—remember that delightful, balmy day in October—the day of the Riding Club picnic—toasting weiners and marshmallows over the fire while Dr. Jarman's radio blared forth the latest football reports—the biggest and most thrilling day of the year—the Horse Show in May—the big moment that comes when a blue ribbon is handed you—the show was climaxed by the Riding Club Banquet at the Club House—another year has come and gone.

Miss Patricia Lifsey
Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia

Dear Miss Lifsey:

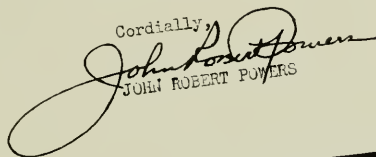

Judging The Bluestocking beauty contest was not an easy task, though a very pleasant one.

In viewing our selection we hope that you will keep in mind that it is very difficult to appraise a young lady adequately from her photograph. My choice has been based on my interest in the Natural Girl. I regret that it was impossible to take into consideration the personality involved, and my selection has been made solely through the camera's eye.

The order in which I have finally placed the sixteen contestants is denoted by the number in red pencil on the back of each picture.

To each of the young ladies I extend my best wishes - and to The Bluestocking my sincerest regards.

Cordially,

JOHN ROBERT POWERS

The oak tree takes years to acquire its rugged beauty. That is why it is a symbol of strength and reliability. Other plants bloom brightly for a day and then fade away. So it is with drug stores. Through years of sturdy growth, with our roots deeply planted in honest and square business methods, we have acquired our reputation for reliability.
